LOCAL NEWS.

Pickpockets are about but the police are also.

All the railroad shops and manufacturing are closed to-day.

Shirley Moore and young Vizzard had a nice fist fight at the South depot at noon. Vizzard got the worst of the mill.

Col. I. B. McDonald was in the city to-day on his way to Winchester where he speaks to-night. To-morrow he will speak at Ridgeville.

The Wabash company was not to blame for the inconvenience to General Butler last evening. They proposed to take him to Andrews in a caboose and then give him a passenger coach, but the haughty possessor of twelve million dollars wouldn't have it. Butler reached Logansport last night at 11 o'clock and addressed a big crowd. To-night Butler, Grady and O'Neill speak at Indianapolis.

Last evening a dispatch was received from the democratic state central committee proposing a rally for this evening at which Hon W. J. Hines and Hon. John Sykes, of Chicago were to speak. On account of the short time for preparation it was deemed advisable to postpone the rally until a date to be subsequently announced. Mr. Hines is the ex-president of the Irish national land league and a distinguished Irishman.

Willie Gross, the eleven-year-old son of Rev. C. Gross, pastor of Emanuel's Lutheran church, was run over by a team of horses on West Jefferson yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. Mention of the frightful accident was made in part of THE SENTINEL edition yesterday, but the particulars were not given. The little fellow attempted to cross the street in front of Matt Glynn's bus wagon and was struck down and his skull crushed. He died instantly and the sad occurrence will probably cause the death of his sick mother. Coroner Dimmen is holding an inquest.

This morning A. N. Steele, of Des Moines, came in to visit the greatest fair in Northern Indiana, and during the forenoon boarded a car at the corner of Main and Calhoun streets, to go down to the grounds. While in the car, which was crowded, the gentleman's pocket book was made to leave his pocket by a sort of a slight of hand performance. He immediately discovered his loss, and was not slow in letting the people know it. Marshal Meyer was near by and collared two suspicious characters, one of whom was seen to have the book in his hand, but he managed to pass it to his confederates of whom there were two, besides his companion under arrest, and who escaped. The two are now studying the designs of the cashbooke. The book contained $10 and papers.

Porter's Harangue.
Governor Albert G. Porter spoke at Library hall last night to a fair crowd. He was escorted to the hall by sixty-one first voters and thirty-eight other people in line. The speaker attributed all our good crops to the republican party. He did not claim credit for the sunshine, but he might just as well have included in his deceptive harangue anything he would think of. Porter may expect to befuddle the hide-bound republicans, but he can not blindfold intelligent people. This man Porter is entitled to no respect in Fort Wayne because he is the sneaking partisan who had it entirely in his power to locate an insane asylum in Fort Wayne, but sooner than favor the democratic city he selected a packed commission who ignored all reason, all justice and all right to put an insane asylum in a seven-up village down here named Richmond. Porter's presence is an insult to the prosperity and progress of Fort Wayne and his cowardly work should be rebuked by every lover of Fort Wayne at the polls in November.

Notes.

Down in Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The news from Ohio at the national capital is good all around for both sides. There is not an hour in the day that cheering tidings are not received here by representative men of both parties. A cabinet officer lately received a letter from a well posted and prominent citizen of Cincinnati. The writer told him that the republicans were gaining back German voters daily in that city, and he felt confident that the republican state ticket would carry Hamilton county by from 4,000 to 5,000. He closed his letter by stating that there was now hardly a doubt that the state would go republican in October by from 8,000 to 12,000 majority. On the other hand, several prominent Ohio democrats have written to friends here that they would carry the state certain in October.

The New York Herald has published two encouraging democratic dispatches from Ohio. One is from Columbus, as follows:

Chairman G. A. Bargar, of the democratic state committee, who is managing the Ohio campaign, returned from New York to-day. While he is reticent there seems to be unusual good feeling about the state headquarters. It is understood that he had certain work to do before embarking the interests of Barnum, Gorman and others of the national committee and that he fully succeeded in both instances. This insures substantial aid from leading capitalists in that state who are interested in Cleveland's election and the general reform ticket which is to follow, but who declined to do anything until the national committee appreciated the importance of the Ohio state election in that democratic success here in October would insure Cleveland's election by turning the tide in what is considered the hardest of the doubtful states for the democrats to carry.

The Paynes are known to be among those who had contributed some and promised liberally on condition that the national committee would not leave the democrats of Ohio to bear the brunt of the battle. While great suspense is evidently relieved, there is financial help coming that indicates good feeling.

An Unlucky.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 2.—The state democratic election for governor, house officers and members of legislature was held to-day. There was a small vote but no opposition. Henry G. McDaniels, successor to Governor Stephens, was re-elected. Out of 7,000 votes not more than 800 were polled in this (Richmond) county. Not more than a third vote of the state was polled.

Shot on a Street Car.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—At 11 o'clock last night a street car in the southern part of the city was hoarded by a highwayman, who commanded the driver to give up his cash box. The latter refused and the robber fired two shots, one of which took effect in the stomach of Albert Mullman, an iron moulder, who was the only passenger on the car, killing him almost instantly. The murderer escaped.

Horrible Death of a Boy.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 2.—Fred Barthels, a six year old boy, met a horrible death at the Riverside mill. A car loaded with iron was started down an inclined plane, and after the men had let go they noticed this boy standing on the track, leaning against the empty car on which the moving car was to strike. They shouted a warning, and the boy turned and saw his danger. He could have moved to either side, but was petrified with fear, and, clasping his hands, he turned his face up and shut his eyes. The next moment the car struck with a frightful crash, and the small frame was crushed to pieces. It was a horrible case and made strong men turn sick.

The Peabody Fund.

New York, Oct. 2.—The trustees of the Peabody Educational fund opened the annual session yesterday at the Fifth avenue hotel. President Robert C. Hope, Vice President Hamilton Fish, Gen. U. S. Grant, Wm. Aiken, Wm. M. Everts, Chief Justice Waite, Henry R. Jackson, Col. Theodore Lyman, ex-President Hayes, Thomas C. Manning, Anthony J. Drexel, Samuel A. Green, James D. Porter, J. L. Curry, L. L. D., were present. Mr. Winthrop reviewed the work of the past year. Mr. Curry, the general agent, presented his report showing the following distribution of the income fund: Alabama, $5,000; Arkansas, $2,950; Florida, $2,100; Georgia, $4,900; Louisiana, $2,645; Mississippi, $3,650; North Carolina, $6,075; South Carolina, $4,400; Tennessee, $13,400; Texas, $5,700; Virginia, $36,200; West Virginia, $2,800. Total $60,000. The report was accepted.

The Cholera.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The total number of deaths from cholera in France last week was 127, against 210 for the preceding week.

A Meeting Held.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 2.—At Burlington, a small place south of here, the greenbackers attempted to hold a meeting Tuesday night. The republicans of that district were being addressed at the same time. The greenbackers had quietly proceeded to hold their meeting on another corner, when the rough element of the republican crowd attacked them, demanding that they stop the speaking at once. Finsmore, the speaker, kept on and a fight commenced, in which several greenbackers were badly injured. They retreated to the hotel, which was soon charged upon by the mob. The plucky democratic hotelkeeper stood at the window, and, with a cocked revolver, kept back the mob and covered the speakers retreat. The council of the sober members of all parties did not avail in avoiding the disgraceful conduct of the drunken mob.

That Southern Bureau.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 2.—Church Howe, member of the National republican committee, will arrive to-morrow. Howe comes to establish general southern republican headquarters and furnish nourishment to the remaining fragments of the Blaine boom in the south. Republicans have represented that they could carry some of the southern states, provided sufficient funds were given them, and Howe, it is supposed, will bring the needed. The democracy in Tennessee are better organized and united than for ten years. It is conceded by the republicans that Hite for governor will carry the state by at least fifteen thousand.

THE ROOM CONTINUES.

Five Thousand People Peeped at the Great Northern Indiana Fair Yesterday—Monter Attendance To-Day and a Great Program for To-Morrow.

Yesterday over 5,000 people were at the Fair grounds and General Butler, the first horse and a legion of other attractions divided honors. Every one was delighted with the exposition and the assembly was very orderly.

There were two good races yesterday which proved very exciting. They were the 2:40 trot and the 2:27 trot, each for a purse of $300, divided.

In the first race there were six starters, Wilkes' King, Almata, Myrtella G., Tonic, Yellow Jacket and Emmett F.

King in Glidden's bay which took first money in the race of Tuesday and yesterday he was a winner again in three straight heats. He made a half mile on the heavy track in 1:13 which is a 2:26 gait and could easily have been driven in a second or two less time. His fastest mile was 2:31 but by agreement it was recorded as 2:38; in order that he might trot out the balance of the season in the 2:40 class. The time dun horse Yellow Jacket challenged him bravely for first place in the initial heat and got second place and then third place in the third heat, when it was discovered that the animal was sick and he was driven to the stable much to the regret of the audience. But for his illness he would have got second place. This honor went to Almata who was fourth in the first heat and second in the other two. Myrtella G., got third place and Tonic fourth place being set back for running. Emmett C., was distanced. The time as announced was 2:39, 2:39, 2:39; and 2:39; though the heats were really faster as above stated.

In the 2:37 trot there were four starters, Glenn Miller, a fine gray seven years old, out of White Lion, Blanche H., Alma King and Bertha S. They divided the purse in the order named. The time was 2:39, 2:39 and 2:39. The performance of Glenn Miller was greatly admired. This is his first season on the turf, and he is a pretty safe one in his class for the rest of the season.

The judges were Joe Hunter, G. W. Loag and Chief of Police Lane, of Columbus, Ohio, father-in-law of Mr. Frank Pearce. A. C. Perrin kept the official time.

To-day the attendance is beyond calculation, and the spacious fair grounds is one swarming mass of humanity. The blooded cattle were arrayed for exhibition this morning and the splendid collection of draught horses were led about the track for show. The sight was imposing. This afternoon the races occupied attention and were hotly contested. The program to-day is:

The democrats are preparing to duplicate the Shelbyville barbecue at Peru.

Sister Woodworth will communique her meeting at Churubusco this evening.

Miss Ellen Dawkins has returned from a pleasant visit with friends at Terre Haute.

The season when quail may be shot lawfully does not open until Wednesday, October 15.

Dr. Ben Moenhouse returned yesterday to Ann Arbor university to complete his studies in dentistry.

Peter H. Parnot will remain in the city until he puts in a straight democratic ticket in November.

Tom O'Keefe is to return home from Chicago and assume control of the city department of the Gazette.

Yesterday to a Sentinel representative Gen. Butler said: "What a mistake Blaine made in writing that letter."

Mrs. Catherine Flaherty was buried this morning from the cathedral. Mrs. Flaherty was an aunt of Mrs. R. O'Sullivan.

Next Saturday evening a fine hickory pole is to be raised out on the Bluffton road near the county infirmary. Speeches will be made in English and German.

A workman employed in the Concordia college sewer was struck, yesterday, by a brick on the head and was severely injured. His name could not be learned.

Charley MacDougal and his sister, Miss Katie, quite pleasantly entertained the Hamilton lawn tennis club last evening at their home, on East Berry street.

At Toledo Blaine was frequently surrounded by crowds of newboys all yelling: "Here's your Mulligan letter." It is said that for once in his life the plumed knight turned pale.

The invitations to the tin wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr, jr., are quite unique. They are one sort of tin foil and bear Mr. Mohr's famous chirography. The pleasant event occurs next Monday evening.

The greatest feature of the campaign occurs next Tuesday. Gov. Isaac P. Gray and Congressman Calkins will have a joint discussion in the afternoon and in the evening at the academy. Senator Voorhees will make a great speech.

Huntington News: "Rev. A. Bollinger, a German reformed minister of Dickinson county, Kansas, is in the city for a few days prior to attend the synod at Fort Wayne. He expects to attend the dedication of the Orphan's home of that church, in Fort Wayne next Thursday."

Gus Gidden, who has a number of trotting horses at the fair, is quite a character. He dresses in corsetry clothes, a foggy shirt and a skull cap. Gus drives his own horses and is worth about two million dollars. His check is good for a million any place, and the man isn't much of a dude either.

The News, the republican evening paper of the city, gives the lie to the Gazette's assertion: "The Gazette," this morning, undertakes to make a correction for Joe Bowers, and jumps out of the frying pan into the fire. It quotes Joe as saying that he always has been a democrat and a lot of similar stuff. Joe Bowers never voted the democratic ticket in his life. For the last thirty years he has voted with the republican party. Further comment is unnecessary.

Cows continue to nightly destroy the property of residents in this city. It is hoped the democratic council will have the courage to pass Mohr's cow ordinance.

SLIPPERY MEN.

The Millionaire Laborer Strikes Fort Wayne in a Very Cranky Mood, but Talks Countingly to a Crowd of His Admirers at the Fair Grounds—No Spade the Wabash Road.

Benjamin Franklin Butler, the national greenback and labor candidate for president, was our guest yesterday and proved quite a curiosity. Butler is a genius and has distinguished himself in the higher walks of life. He lives like a prince and his colored servant and private secretary accompany him about the country. The man has his $50,000 yacht and can count his wealth by the millions. During the war Butler made himself famous in various ways, but since then he has devoted his time to law and politics. He was prominent in the democratic councils in 1860, and sat in congress as a republican from 1867 to 1875, and was active in the impeachment of President Johnson. He is considered one of the best constitutional lawyers of the nation. Owing to a deformity the vision of his left eye is obscured, but he manages to overcompensate ground with his right. He talks in a sleepy sort of mood, and assumes indignant positions on the platform but his character insures him attention. In the political arena Mr. Butler is a clown and talks with earnestness against monopolies, official corruption and oppressive taxation. His speech is severe on the republican party, and he thrusts his lance deep into the treasury leeches. His objection to the democracy is that they did not nominate him for the presidency and adopt a platform of his peculiar construction.

Butler's manners at the fair grounds were peculiar. He was mounted on the platform by his colored valet and Hon. John Studebaker, of Bluffton, introduced him. He was in a very cranky mood, and evidently had not recovered from the mortification of seeing his henchman, ex-Senator Grady rotten-egged at Albany, N. Y., last Monday night. He began his performance at the fair grounds by waving a carriage out of the way. Next he ordered the American flag lowered and said if he had his way, he would dispense with a hand or two. He was driven later to the Wabash depot where he ordered a special train to take him to Logansport. The Wabash people would give him nothing but a freight caboose. Butler said he was not riding in freight cars this year and was driven back to the Avenue home, where he remained until the 3:30 Wabash train west. He spoke at Logansport last night, and this afternoon made a speech at Terre Haute. From Terre Haute he goes to Indianapolis.

Nervous debility, indicated by loss of memory, universal lassitude, constant fatigue, vivid dreaming, unnatural excitements, fits of dizziness, etc., is quickly cured by using Dr. Guyot's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, strengthens the weak portions of the body, quiets the nerves, produces dreamless slumber, and is the only remedy that permanently cures the many distressful ailments resulting from nervous debility.

WHAT HE HAS SEEN AND HEARD.

BY E. L. C.
I've seen the lightning flash from pole to pole,
I've listened to the deep dread thunders roll,
I've seen the clouds in darkness gather round,
And heard the hail stones rattle on the ground,
I've witnessed storms upon the mighty deep,
And blood-mouthed lions in their anger leap,
I've seen mankind in all his various form,
I've heard him laugh and weep and rave and storm;
I've seen the rainbow with his varied hues,
I've even seen sweet woman with the blues;
Yet never saw a Christian man who'd care to bet a cent
That Blaine would ever make an honest President.

Fort Wayne, September 8, 1894.

[The above clever poem is clipped from the Indianapolis Sentinel and written by Hon. E. L. Chittenden, of this city, whose reputation as a poet and author is not entirely local.]—Ed. SENTINEL.

Library hall is now bartered out for political purposes. This magnificent institution was built with money solicited from the people of Fort Wayne through direct donations and fairs. Its friends gave liberally because it was to be devoted to charitable, religious and pure literary purposes. Now that their fond hopes are thwarted it is no wonder its friends earnestly protest. No such grand institution as Library hall deserves to be debased by being dragged into the political arena. The SENTINEL has always warmly expounded the noble purposes of the promoters of Library hall and hope they will see their error.

Wm. Brown, of Berne, Ind., is visiting friends in the city.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," but it may get an advertisement for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup painted on it.

The late earthquake shock was slight when compared with the shock felt by the high priced dealers, at the remarkable low price on Overcoats, named by Sam, Pete & Max.

Centlivre's bear sold this summer in the finest the famous French Brewery has yet turned out.

If you want your shoes or boots mended in a neat manner, call on Austin, No. 6, Avenue House. His prices are moderate and he does his work well.

How is it that Sam, Pete & Max (the only original) are busy from early morning till late at night? Examine their stock, and learn their prices; and the answer is easily found.

MAINE HEARD FROM!

The Maine question is now answered as to the most durable shoe for children. The "little ones" take about twenty steps to an adult one. It is no surprise that the restless feet soon kick their way out.

Parents are in constant trouble about how to keep their children's feet neatly clad, unless they belong to the happy throng who turn these cares over to W. H. Fleming who always carries a large stock in a specialty for children that is neat, and very durable, in button or lace, light or heavy, heel or no heel. Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

Hon. Wm. Fleming and wife are at Indianapolis.

The blessings of life are many. Live long and be happy. Don't neglect a cough or cold. Keep yourself well clothed in changeable weather, and always keep a bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in the household. A single spoonful will cure an ordinary cough or cold. Its continued use will cure consumption.

It is gratifying to learn that someone is undergoing a change; they are made shorter in the waist and allow more room for the hips.

Extravagant claims for inferior medicines are always sure to defeat the ends for which they are intended. It is only when the efficacy of a remedy has been tried and proven that the manufacturer is justified in pronouncing it an invincible specific. Mr. P. Ferguson, of No. 206 Hudson street, Buffalo, N. Y., adds his testimony to that of hundreds of others when he writes, in ordering a bottle of Athlophores, the great remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia: "I find your medicine all you claim for it. I am now able to get around very comfortably."

From Col. J. M. Mather, of New York: "I have suffered severely for the last ten years from Hay Fever in early and mid-summer and in the fall. True 36 Years Ago, True To-Day.
The Hon. John C. Spencer, late secretary of war and secretary of the treasury of the United States, wrote thirty-six years ago: "Upon reflection, I am convinced that it is a duty to humanity and to the cause of medical science to state publicly, of Pond's Extract, what I have so frequently stated to my friends and acquaintances. Its effect in quieting and calming nervous agitation is surprising. It is a remedy perfectly invaluable and is so gently astringent, so soothing and so healing, that it cannot injure. It not only merely relieves, but cures all sorts of aches pains and inflammation."
